DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 30, 2008 has been entered.

Claims 1, 8-10, 12, 30-31, 36, 39, and 43-45 have been amended, claims 2-3, 19-29, 33-35, and 37-38 have been canceled, and claims 47-48 have been added. Claim 43 remains withdrawn, pursuant to the species election requirement of March 27, 2006 and the subsequent election of the extension primers of SEQ ID NOS 9, 14 and 11 of May 9, 2006. Claims 1, 4-18, 30-32, 36, 39-42, and 44-48 are therefore presently under consideration.

2. It is noted that prior to the present amendment of April 30, 2008, the amplification primers of SEQ ID NOS 1-8 have only been recited in the claims as a group, and thus only the patentability of the group of 8 primers together has been considered. The instant amendment presents claims that are separately directed to the groups of SEQ ID NOS 1-4 and SEQ ID NOS 5-8 (it is noted that the originally filed specification provides basis for these separate, previously unclaimed embodiments at e.g., pages 35-36). However, as a result of applicant's amendments, the claims are now subject to the further species election set forth below. In particular, it is noted that methods employing SEQ ID NOS 1-4 were found to require (in addition to a search of separate SEQ ID NO combinations) a text search and consideration of numerous references related to primers directed at CYP2D6 deletion alleles, while methods employing SEQ ID NOS 5-8 require a different text search and consideration of numerous different references related to primers directed at CYP2D6 duplication alleles, such that a complete search of both species would be unduly burdensome.

Election/Restrictions

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- a. Methods employing the primer combination of SEQ ID NOS 1-4, as set forth in independent claim 1 and claims dependent therefrom; and
- b. Methods employing the primer combination of SEQ ID NOS 5-8, as set forth in independent claim 36 and claims dependent therefrom.

4. The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (i.e., species a or species b, as noted above) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic (it is noted that claims 30-32 and 46 recite species a and b in the alternative, and will be considered to the extent drawn to the elected species).

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.
